About the Project: Feed Me a Story is a transmedia project that encourages the sharing of secret family recipes in a documentary-style food truck, video cookbook and Web application.

Technology:

- Django web framework used for administrative interface, URL routing and business logic.
- HTML5 Boilerplate to create a base for the user interface.
- Wordnet to create a lexical database for fuzzy emotion matching.
- GitHub, used as a repository for collaborating on and development of assets.
